

John R. Grimwade
Kansas City Power & Light

John Grimwade is the Senior Director, Strategic Planning and Development at Kansas City Power & Light Company (KCP&L), a wholly owned subsidiary of Great Plains Energy, Inc.

His responsibilities include the coordination and development of KCP&L's Comprehensive Energy Plan as well as other strategic initiatives within KCP&L and Great Plains Energy.

John has over 28 years of energy industry experience in the areas of Integrated Resource Planning, Power Plant Development, Power Marketing, Risk Management, Power Engineering and Power Plant Construction and Commissioning.

Mr. Grimwade holds an MBA from Rockhurst College, Kansas City, Missouri and a Bachelor of Science degree in Mechanical Engineering from Worcester Polytechnic Institute, Worcester, Massachusetts.

John enjoys outdoor activities including biking, swimming, hiking and sailing and enjoys spending time with his wife Vicki and twin son and daughter Michael and Allison.