

JOHN GRIMWADE

John Grimwade is currently Senior Director, Strategic Planning and Development at Kansas City Power & Light Company (KCP&L). His responsibilities include the coordination and development of KCP&L's Sustainable Resource Strategy, wind development as well as other strategic initiatives within KCP&L and Great Plains Energy. John has over 29 years of energy industry experience with focus in the areas of Energy Policy, Integrated Resource Planning, Wind Development, Power Marketing and Risk Management.

Mr. Grimwade currently serves as a member of the Kansas Wind Working Group, the Kansas Energy and Environmental Policy (KEEP) Advisory Group's Energy Supply Technical Working Group and the Steering Committee of the Missouri Wind Working Group.

Mr. Grimwade holds an MBA from Rockhurst College, Kansas City, Missouri and a Bachelor of Science degree in Mechanical Engineering from Worcester Polytechnic Institute, Worcester, Massachusetts.